FACULTY

Shannon Dueck

Shannon's complete bio may be found HERE

Shannon has had access to great trainers – from the very beginning with Klaus Albin and Dietrich Von Hopfgarten in Langley, B.C. with her event horses. In her adult life she has had extensive help from Bert Rutten of the Netherlands Lars Peterson of Denmark, Kathy Connelly, Robert Dover and Steffen Peters of the USA, Hubertus Schmidt and Wolfram Wittig of Germany, and most recently, Carl Hester of Great Britain. She now works at home in Loxahatchee with help from Scott Hassler and will be taking horses to train with Carl Hester in the UK in 2024 with an eye to competing in the Paris 2024 Olympics. Shannon loves teaching almost as much as riding! She has been teaching since her early days in Pony Club and has formal education in teaching methodology. As the Team Trainer for the Colombian National Dressage Team, she led them to the Bolivarian and Pan American Games. She coached Paralympian Lauren Barwick at the Tokyo Olympics in 2021. She teaches and trains privately in Wellington Florida and in clinics throughout North America and has been a headliner at The Equine Affair in California and Alberta. Shannon tries to teach not only the technical aspects of dressage training but also the subtle ability to feel and communicate clearly and compassionately with the horses.
